Art Start
Board Prep: How to Set Up

1. ## Find Your Class Art Board

   - Teachers post their name on their board with a piece of paper OR their Art Start banner/sign from years past
   - Your board is usually found in the hallways leading to your child's class
   - Classes in portables have the hallway to the B pod
   - Can't find yours? Ask!

2. ## Map It Out

   - If you have a single board not shared with anyone, great... move on to step 3!
   - If you have a long board, shared by several teachers, try to measure it out so each teacher has equal presentation space.

3. ## Gather Supplies

   - Roll paper (in small production room)
   - Boarders (can be in either production room and there is a limited supply in art start room)
   - Can't find boarders?
     - Make your own with production room paper.
     - Cut paper lengthwise into 2 inch strips
     - Staple strips end to end around designated boarder
   - Stapler (production rooms and art start room)

4. # Hang Your Teacher's Banner or Sign

   - Hang in a place that allows for maximal use of board space for kids art

5. # Things to Consider:

   -Color coordinate roll paper to boarder

   -Consider neutral colors to allow student's art to be the focal point of the display

   -Ask: Does your teacher's sign/banner need refreshing?

       -If so, feel free to create a new one with their permission

   -Consider making name tags for all the students in your class to post under their art

       -This keeps the look uniform

       -You can use them with each project posted

       -The kids will then get the much deserved credit for their work

Art Start
Board Prep: How to Set Up

1. Find Your Class Art Board

- Teachers post their name on their board with a piece of paper OR their Art Start banner/sign from years past
- Your board is usually found in the hallways leading to your child's class
- Classes in portables have the hallway to the B pod
- Can't find yours? Ask!

2. Map It Out

-If you have a single board not shared with anyone, great... move on to step 3!
- If you have a long board, shared by several teachers, try to measure it out so each teacher has equal presentation space.

3. Gather Supplies

-Roll paper (in small production room)
-Boarders (can be in either production room and there is a limited supply in art start room)
- Can't find boarders?
   - Make your own with production room paper.
   - Cut paper lengthwise into 2 inch strips
   -Staple strips end to end around designated boarder
-Stapler (production rooms and art start room)

4. Hang Your Teacher's Banner or Sign

- Hang in a place that allows for maximal use of board space for kids art

5. Things to Consider:

-Color coordinate roll paper to boarder
-Consider neutral colors to allow student's art to be the focal point of the display
-Ask: Does your teacher's sign/banner need refreshing?
    -If so, feel free to create a new one with their permission
-Consider making name tags for all the students in your class to post under their art
    -This keeps the look uniform
    -You can use them with each project posted
    -The kids will then get the much deserved credit for their work